Vrindavan

Vrindavan is a small town in north central India, about ninety miles southeast of Delhi. It is situated on the banks of the sacred river Yamuna in the forest of Vrindavan, which is one of the twelve main forests. Within the town are over 5000 temples, including those that were established by the Six Goswamis. Many of the important place where Krishna performed His childhood pastimes can be found there. Vrindavan literally means forest (van) of tulasi (vrinda), the sacred plant whose leaves and blossoms are offered to Krishna by his devotees. The area around Vrindavan is called Braja Mandala, "The Circle of Braja," with a diameter of approximately 50 miles.

Govardhan

Govardhana Hill is situated in Braja Mandala or Vrajabhumi. Although Lord Krishna grew up across Braja Mandala, He performed innumerable lilas on Govardhana, including the celebrated Govardhana-lila. Krishna declared that Govardhana Hill is His expansion. Krishna began the Govardhana Parikrama as process to worship this transcendental hill. Devotees circumambulate the 21km parikrama to pay their respects to Krishna during the pilgrimage, passing places of importance like Manasi Ganga, where Krishna manifested Ganga from His mind; Radha Kunda and Shyam Kunda and Kusum Sarovar.

RETREAT MEDITATIONS

The results of travelling to all the pilgrimages in the three worlds is achieved simply by touching the holy land of Vrindavana.

Bhakti-rasamrita-sindhu of Srila Rupa Goswami

All the sins accumulated through many births can be destroyed in a second by staying in Vrindavana. Sins committed in Vrindavana can be washed off in Vrindavana only. By staying in Vrindavana one can rise above Dharma-artha-kāma-mokṣa. All these steps leading to salvation are easily attainable in Vrindavana.

Mathura Mahatmya of Srila Rupa Goswami

Those who stay in Vrindavana for three nights, to them Lord Krishna gives happiness not even obtainable for those who are liberated.

Mathura Mahatmya of Srila Rupa Goswami

The liberated soul said: Glorious Govardhana Hill, the king of mountains, is the personal form of Lord Krishna. Simply by seeing it, one attains the supreme goal of life.
